Dear Friends,

“Welcome to the World of Simulation Learning”. Warm greetings from Department of MSR CARE & Anaesthesiology, MSRMC, Bangalore.

Course Background

It a pleasure to invite you for “Critical Events during Clinical Practice of Anaesthesiasimulation Training ” at the state of art M S Ramaiah Advanced Learning Centre. A first of its kind simulation training in intra operative critical events during anaesthesia is being organised by KISACON 2013 and M. S. Ramaiah Academy of Health and Applied Sciences in Bangalore.

The purpose of this simulation training is to give participants hands on experience of management of critical incidences in day to day anaesthesia practice. Here the participant will be involved in the conduct and management of these anaesthetic emergencies enabling the participants to arrive at the best crisis management strategies.

Objective

Crisis Management Training & Updates in Current Clinical Practice of Anaesthesia.

Course Description

The 3G Simman is a high fidelity life size adult mannequin which replicates patient's physiology and physical findings with advanced technical apparatus. It has sophisticated mechanical and software programs to simulate the anaesthetic emergencies. An almost real operating room setup has been created with the help, advanced monitors, anaesthesia workstation and other equipment. The participant will have to identify, diagnose and manage complex clinical emergencies in this setup. There will be real time response to all the management actions including response to drugs done by the candidates. After the scenarios the delegates will undergo debriefing sessions in which the anaesthetic critical incident and the management will be discussed in detail by senior simulation faculty.

Target participants

Anaesthesiology, Emergency Medicine and Critical Care post graduates, residents and practitioners.
